

Special Topics on Listening and Teaching

This course is about how to develop listening comprehension skills in the language classroom. The content of the course is divided into 3 categories:

1. Understanding spoken language;
2. Suggestions for classroom activities;
3. Actual listening to news reports.

Students are required to attend class regularly, participate in class discussion actively, and turn in assignments on time.