

英語教學教材教法研究

Studies on English Teaching Methods & Material Evaluation

Summer, 2009 ETMA Program

Prof. Leah C.Y. Yeh 葉潔宇

Course Objectives

This course aims to

1. overview some major types of English teaching methods.
2. introduce the current trends in English teaching.
3. provide strategies for teaching four English skills—listening, speaking, reading, and writing, and the teaching of vocabulary, grammar and discourse.
4. provide techniques for classroom-based assessment, and guideline for material evaluation.
5. provide the concepts of learning autonomy.

Activities

lecture, oral presentation, discussion, and video-viewing.

Requirements & Grading

1. Regular attendance and active participation in class
2. Oral presentation
3. A term paper of 6-10 pages in length (excluding references and appendixes) on any topic concerning EFL/ESL teaching.

Textbook:

1. Celce-Murica, M. (2001 3rd ed.). Teaching English as a Second or Foreign Language. Heinle & Heinle.
2. Nunan, David. (2003). Practical English Language Teaching. (International Edition). McGraw-Hill.